The Sandwich Islands in a State of Delirium Tremens.

Fifteen Hundred Earthquakes in Ten Days.

No End to the Volcanoes.

A Graphic Picture.

(From the Hawaiian Advertiser, April 12.)

THE SUCCESSION OF EARTHQUAKES PRECEDED THE GREAT ERUPTION.

The eruption was preceded by numerous shocks and severe shocks of earthquake, which were more or less distinct, but were on the whole very slight.

On April 1st, the shocks began and continued, more or less, until the final catastrophe, which occurred on the 2d of April.

The earth opened in various places, and the sea rose in extraordinary waves, and the lava burst forth in shrubs in a breeze.

On the afternoon of the 2d the earthquake above alluded to had subsided, and resulting in the death of one hundred persons, according to estimates by correspondents of the Advertiser.

The shocks were very violent during the afternoon and night were almost incessant, the severest being about 9 P.M., when the greatest damage was done.

It rolled in over the tops of the hills, and the lava, high and stony, and drove the floating rubbish, men, etc., etc., inland a distance of a quarter of a mile, nearly a whole village.

This wave is reported to have been nearly a mile long, ten or twelve feet above the usual height, and when it returned to the sea, men, women, and almost everything movable.

Hon. Richard Apperson, of Mt. Sterling, gentleman who was a credit to his great legal attainments. James E. Apperson was a man of the best impulses, one whom everybody knew him well.

He was kind of heart, well-meaning, and generous to a fault, and will be sadly missed. We sincerely condole with his sorrow-stricken wife, who is enjoying the pleasantness of "those bright meadow-lands whose dews are the balms of eternity."

Radicical Discipline.

A few papers, calling themselves

Republican, such as the New York Times,

New York Commercial, &c., took the upmost pains to procure the acquittal of the President. The fact is the radical machine is breaking down, and can only be kept going by the merest fabrications of corruption and deceit.

Gen. Grant.

Gen. Grant, of the Mount Sterling News-tem, says that if a man is saddled with a wife he is apt to have up-sits in the family. He will be lucky if Mr. Burbridge allows him to go with him back to China.

Gen. Grant.

The point in respect to the oath of anonymity, mentioned by our Washington correspondent in his telegraphic letter

this morning, is worthy of very general and very especial attention.

Gen. Grant.

According to our special telegraph

it appears that the difference between

Col. Woolley and Gen. Grant is that the one is to have bread and water while the other has whisky and water.

If Gen. Grant should be elected President we shall have to change the name of the Executive Mansion. We must call it the Black House.

The Chicago Tribune

says that Grant does not drink. No, he does not. We should respect him more if he did. He sucks it through a straw in a back room.

Gen. Grant.

Gen. Grant is out of office, but not half so much as the country is out of pocket on his account.

Gen. Grant says that General Grant is a

The Pending Local Election in the National Capital.

A Majority of Whites.

Vinnie Ream to be Sacrificed to Radical Vengeance.

[Special Dispatch to the Louisville Journal.]

WASHINGTON, May 28.

THE WOOLLEY CASE.

The malice of the radicals—whose bitter disappointment makes them very vindictive—will press the action against Mr. Woolley to the extreme of imprisonment.

Mary's confinement and bread and butter, as his portion at present, I tried an admission to his cell-day, but he said, "No, thank you; my family is allowed none."

The Committee on Amnesty will begin its investigation at once however, and its action will expose a "split" between the two Houses. The fact is, the Woolley case is an elephant of the greatest magnitude, and will hang heavily on the hands of the Republicans before they are done with it.

THE WAR OFFICE.

Now that Stanton is really out and a successor is not in sight, he is much more sanguine about the War Department. It is the general impression that Schofield will finally be confirmed, though this is not positively certain.

The President declines to withdraw his nomination.

The conservatives regard this as an exact parallel to the nomination of Stanton after he had been rejected by the traitor to the service, in which he was engaged.

Why Mr. Johnson sticks to Schofield I know not. Gen. McClellan would be a better man by far, and Gen. Tom Ewing, of Ohio, is urged by many.

THE PATH OF AMNESTY.

A motion is made of having hearings on the pending local elections which come off early in June. There are four thousand registered voters so far in a registration of twenty-seven thousand, and excellent hopes are entertained of a Democratic triumph.

RATHER MEAN.

The radicals are about to deprive Vinnie Ream of her status at the Capitol. She is a firm Democrat, as well as a pretty woman, and an article of genius, and not to be tolerated by the "true loaf."

CONSPIRATION.

The corruption still goes on. Everybody is now equal before the law, investigating committees. Rose of New Jersey, says he feels easy, as the radicals have discovered a dozen rascals deeper-dyed than they took him off.

EXIT FORNEY.

Forney's resignation will be given. It is thought he will go back to China with Mr. Burleigh. He is utterly discarded here.

A BETTER SOONER.

Col. Cooper, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury—whose nomination the Senate refused to confirm last winter—will retire in a few days. It is said he will remain as counselor of the President and go on a foreign mission. He resides at the White House.

JOHNSON'S CHANCES.

The friends of the President say he will receive a vote of confidence at the National Convention in spite of the apparent apathy of the politicians towards his claims. Mr. Johnson himself laughs at the idea, and says just now that he has not told him more about the Democrats.

ABJOURNMENT.

There are all sorts of opinions expressed about the adjournment of Congress. The radicals are about to do what will allow the radicals that they hardly know what to do. No doubt they will adjourn in lieu of anything better. Probably the Fourth of July will see the last of them.
